[With its incredible topographic and cultural diversity, Indonesia remains a puzzle to many outsiders. Historians, anthropologists and politicians struggle to define the precise contours and limits of the sprawling archipelago. Author and photographer Vivek R. Bammi suggests that the unity of Indonesia is aesthetic, each of its multiple strands contributing to a delightful opening up of the senses and to a saturation of pleasurable feelings. Indonesians intuitively understood this in naming their country Tanah Air, a fusion of soil and sea creating the dramatic setting for the unfolding beauty of practices and beliefs that touch every nerve of human existence.]

[As with many newly democratic countries, Indonesia faces common problems such as crisis of leadership, ethnic and communal conflicts, and the clash of Islam and the West. Indonesia, Islam, and Democracy: Dynamics in a Global Context brings fresh insight to the growing influence of Islam which is often ignored by foreign observers. Azyumardi Azra, a noted historian, breaks away from the common analysis of the current political situation and uncovers the lineages of the influence of Islam in Indonesian politics since the collapse of the suharto era.]

[Understanding women in Islam: An Indonesian perspective critically explores gender-biased discourse within Islamic jurisprudence. It also elucidates matters seldom discussed in the Qu'ran and proposes a way out from the current methodological deadlock regarding women's position in Islam. This book makes us realize that so much of our understanding of Islam in relation to gender is erroneous. [This book] succinctly dispels these errors and provides an understanding of Islam which is founded in humanity and kind to women.]
