[In unsettling absences, eric thompson argues that urbanism is a cultural force unbound from the city and is a pervasive presence in the malaysian countryside. Transported to rural communities, urbanism has motivated migration, transformed the social lives of rural inhabitants, and created a deep ambivalence about personal identity. This has left rural malays feeling out of place in both the city and the village. Kuala lumpur epitomises modernity, but rural malays who move there are often marginalised in squatter settlements on its periphery. The kampung symbolises home and the locus of malay identity, but schoolbooks and television have projected urbanism that marks rural life as backwards and marginal in a forward-looking nation into the kampung.

The book challenges city-bound urban studies by locating urbanism in a wider world that extends outside of the city, and shows the conflicted realities of rural dwellers in an overwhelmingly urban world. As others have challenged the meaning of "modernity", thompson challenges the meaning of "urban" while still recognising the powerful effects of an ideology of "urbanism". Unsettling absences is a call to take seriously place-based identities and cultural geographies in a world where the urban/rural divide is dissolving in practice but in cultural terms remains as powerful as ever.]

Nomads-Borneo 2. Hunting And Gathering Societies-Borneo

[Borneo, With Its Tales Of White Rajahs And Tribes Of Headhunters Has Long Excited The Western Imagination. Today However, There Is Another, Green, Imagination At Work. Mention Of The Island Is More Likely To Evoke Images Of Tropical Deforestation And Concern About The Cruel Dispossession And Displacement Of Indigenous Peoples Who Once Lived In Relative Harmony With Their Environment.

It Is Perhaps Not Surprising, Then That Most Books Dealing With The Nomadic Hunter Gatherers Of Borneo Have Principally Been Pictorial Studies. There Is Indeed A Dearth Of Scholarship Regarding These Peoples A Situation That This First Ever Comprehensive Review Of Nomadic Groups In The Borneo Rain Forest Aims To Rectify.

The Book Has No Stiff Theoretical Orientation By Informs Ongoing Debates About Changing Forms Of Ethnicity, Relations Between Minorities And The State, Minorities Rights And Survival, Native Discourse, The Sustainability Of Tropical Forest Use, And The Neo-Romantic Environmentalist Myth Of So Called Wise Traditional Peoples.]

[Media Are Divers In Malaysia. Yet, Its Contours And Historical Developments And Concomitant Growth Are Somewhat Least Understood Let Alone Analyzed. In Fact, Several Studies By Some Communication Scholars In And Around The Region Found That Newspapers (Press), Broadcasting, Film, And Marketing Communication, Especially Advertising, Have Had Come Of Age As Industries And Became Major Players In The Nation-Building Process. Their Respective Impacts And Effects Have Been Overpowering And Ostensibly Ominous And Potent On Our Society At Large.

Hence, This Book Offers Readers Some Interesting Insights On Not Only The History Of Newspapers In Early Part Of Malaysia's Nationhood But Also Poses Some Concerns On The Trajectories Of Malaysia's Media Scene Vis-À-Vis The Dilemma Faced In Particular By The Media Council, The Educational Television Broadcasting, And The Teaching Of Television Production Courses At Institutions Of Higher Learning. Yet, Some Discussions And Debates On The Need To Conceptualizing Territorialized Cinemas And The Need For Understanding The Dynamics Of Integrated Marketing Communications And Its Convergence In An Advertising Industry Are Imperative If Not Relevant As Well. However, This Book Concludes That Media Effect And Its Heuristic Theoretical Framework Of Third-Person Effects Are Relevant In Understanding And Analyzing The Political Process In Malaysia.]

[Malaysia's Foremost Challenges Are The Fragmentation Of Its Society And The Deterioration Of Its Institutions. Social Stability Is A Prerequisite For Economic Growth, And Effective Institutions Are Needed For Optimizing It. The Deepening Polarization Of Malays Poses A Far Greater Threat Than The More Readily Recognized Divisions Between The Races, And Malaysian Institutions Are Fast Losing Their Integrity And Effectiveness Through The Twin Blights Of Corruption And Incompetence.

The Author Presents The Framework Of His "Diamond Of Development" Through Enhancing Its Four Cardinal Elements: Leadership, People, Culture, And Geography. Optimizing All Four, With Each Synergistically Reinforcing Each Other, Would Propel Malaysia Into Its Next Trajectory Of Development.

Malaysia Has Done Many Things Right: Attaining Independence Peacefully, Defeating The Communist Insurgency, And Achieving Economic Growth With Equity. Those Should Give Malaysians Confidence To Tackle The Current Challenges. Regionally Malaysia Should Integrate Its Economy With Brunei And Indonesia (Imb) Instead Of The Ambitious And Unattainable Asean Common Market. Malaysia Could Potentially Lead The Greater Malay World Through Imb And Then Be A Model For The Muslim World In Demonstrating The Compatibility Of Islam With Modernity Malaysia Is Also Ideally Positioned To Bridge East And West, As Well As The West And The Islamic World.]

[The Field Of Quantitative Ecology And Environmental Modeling Has Reached A Level Of Maturity Previously Enjoyed By Other Disciplines Such As Physics And Engineering. The Interdisciplinary Interactions Between Ecology, Environmental Sciences And Mathematics Will Lead To A Better Understanding Of The Role Of Man In Using And Managing The Limited Resources Of Environment. With Computers Becoming A Part Of Modern, Man Existence, It Is Inevitable That Intrusion Of Computers Into This Relatively Young Multidisciplinary Science Is Slowly Becoming Central To Its Activities. The Combination Of The Analytical And The Computational Will Push Activities In This Area To A New Plateau. On The Other Hand, Understandings Of Science Always Start From Observations. It Is Data That Will Lead Us To Propose Ideas. In The Final Analysis, It Is Also Data That Dietate Whether Our Conclusion Regarding Certain Phenomena Is Correct Or Not. Papers In This Book Reflect All Of These Aspects And More. Various Researchers Share Their Ideas And Experiences To Facilitate Further Development Of The Field.]

[Decades Of Change Is An Autobiography Of A Malaysian Civil Servant. More Important, It Is A Captivating Story Of An Elder Malaysian, Frankly Told-Sometimes Sad, Often Amusing But Always Sincere.

Born In The Small Agricultural Village Of Brisu, Of Minangkabau Parents, Datuk Yusoff Captures The Innocence Of A Childhood Spent Among Traditional Elders In A Rural Society That Taught One To Live Peace And Harmony With One's Neighbours. At S Time When The Country Was Ruled By Colonial Masters, He Dared To Aspire To Great Things As A Young Man.

Decades Of Change Is More Than A Mere Chronicle Of Events It – Is Also A Rare And Painstakingly Painted Picture Of A Malaysian Society As It Evolved Since The Break Of The Twentieth Century.

It Is A Work That Will Warm Many Hearts. Best Of All, It Is One Man's Charming Tale Of A Fruitful Life Spent Serving His Country And His Fellowmen.]

[The Malays Of South Africa Are Descendants Of The Malay Diaspora, Which Began In The Malay Archipelago Since As Early As The 7th Century Ad. Many Factors Set In Motion This Diaspora, Chiefly Among These Being The Political Polemics In The Region At That Time. It Is Also Evident Here That The Malays Who Were Actively Opposed To Dutch Colonialism In The Region Were Rounded Up And Systematically Sent Into Exile In South Africa. Among These Political Exiles Were Malay Royalty. Muslim Religious Leaders And Prominent Malay Political Thinkers And They Formed The Earliest Malay Arrivals In The Africa Continent.

Through Many Generations, The Malays Continued To Live Here As Seafarers, Tailors, Traders And Illustrious Islamic Teachers. Historical Records And Early Manuscripts Attest To This Community's Contributions In The Propagation Of Islam And Also In The Building Of Many Mosques In South Africa. Through A Process Spanning Many Generations, They Have Integrated Well With The Local Community And Have Assimilated Many Changes In Lifestyle And Cultural Practices. What Is Certain, However Is That They Have Gone On To Cope With Life's Challenges And Yet Retain A Steadfast Affinity To Their Origins.]

[This Book Raises Some Important Issues In The Field Of Literary Translation. In Light Of Prevalent Postcolonial Theories, It Examines, Analysis And Evaluates The Translators' Choice Of Words In Conveying Culture-Specific Expressions Of A Malay Text Into English. A. Samad Said's Celebrated Malay Novel, Salina, Is Compared With Two Extant English Translations To Highlight The Problems Of Translation Encountered, And The Strategies Employed To Solve Them. In The Course Of The Scrutiny Of Expressions, The Study Confirms The Validity Of The View That Literary Translation Is A Culturally Dictated Activity, And Thereby Charged With Agendas That May Conscious Or Unconscious. In Illustrating How, As A Non-Western Or 'Minor-Culture' Text, Salina Is Subjected To The Western Or 'Major-Culture' Norms Prevailing Upon The Western Translator, The Study Advocates That Maintaining Hierarchy Of

Author-Over-Translator Facilities The Successful Transmission Of Culture-Specific Meanings

Vigorous; Whether It Was Vicious Or Valiant Remains A Controversial Point Of Contention.
The Flurry Of Debate And Disagreement That Has Surrounded This Comeback Is Often More Intense Than It Is Insightful Because A Haze Of Political Secrecy Clouds The Entire Affair.
In Mahathir Vs. Abdullah; Convert Wars And Challenged Legacies, 22 Authors Describe In 26 Articles All The Truths That Were Stranger Than Fiction And Meticulously Hidden From The Public Eye.

[This Book Charts The Course Of The Dialectical Tensions Resulting From The Clash Of Ideology And Objective Reality Throughout The History Of Islamic Civilization. It Consists Of Two Complementary Parts : Part I, Classical Islam In The Imagination Of The Historian,
Is Largely Inspired By Ibn Khaldun's Introduction To World History-The Muqaddimah. As One Of The Great Achievements In Late Middle Ages, Ibn Khaldun's Work Defines The Major
Cultural Archetypes Lying At The Foundation Of Islamic Civilization From The Seventh To
The Early Fifteenth Centuries. Part Ii. The Politics Of Faith In The Modern World, Is A Study
Of The Various Ideological Influences That Shaped Muslim Perspectives From The Sixteenth Century To The Dawn Of The Twenty-First Century.

Historical Determinants In Ibn Khaldun's Cyclical Interpretation Of History, Derive, For The Most Part , A Strict Understanding Of The Impacts Of Socio-Biological Influences On Institutional Development. This Phenomenon Further Explains Why Ibn Khaldun's Position

On Tribal Solidarity Appears Highly Ambiguous: It Can Be A Force For Good As The Harbinger Of The Regime Of Law While, On Most Other Occasions, It Acts As The Primeval Enemy Of Civilization And Of Both Religion And Philosophy, In Particular. In The Concrete Terms Of Historical Reference, The Convergence Of Natural Group Solidarity And Traditional Authority Tends To Overwhelm The Individual Ethics Taught By The Holy Qur'an For The Realization Of Spiritual And Rational Organization Of Existential Reality.]

[Fatwas Of Condemnation Examines A Particularly Rich And Relatively Untapped Source For Islamic Intellectual History, Namely The Genre Of Legal Writing Represented By The Compendia Of Islamic Legal Reponsa To Examine The Limits Of Dissent In Islam. Not Confining Himself To A Particular Period Of History, But Having Chosen Certain Recurring Issues As Being Particularly Illustrative Of The Dynamics Of Dissent In Islam, The Author Has Focused On Fatwas That Derived Principally From An Attempt By The 'Ulama' To Define And Fix The Limits Of Dissent And Spare The Islamic Community Of What They Viewed As The Detrimental Effects Of Actions, Doctrines Or Movements That Were Seen Not To Be In Its Best Interests (Malalaha).]
