LexisNexis Essential Reference – Capital Markets and Services
Malaysia : Lexis Nexis, 2016

1v.

9789674006105

$ 120.00

The publication includes: Commentaries on defining specific terms within the Act The commentaries also cross-refer to local and international cases Relevant local and international legislation Summary of recent Capital Markets cases

Capital markets are a broad category of markets facilitating the buying and selling of financial instruments. Capital markets are constantly evolving due to various regulations from regulatory bodies and the financial and business sector. The past 15 years in Malaysia have seen and witnessed a host of changes in the legal and regulatory framework of the securities and futures markets culminating in the introduction of the Capital Markets and Services Act in 2007. The Securities Commission Malaysia is a statutory body entrusted with the responsibility of regulating and systematically developing the capital markets in Malaysia. The Capital Markets and Services Act 2007 which came into force on 28 September 2007 is seen as a continuous measure to strengthen the capital market regulatory framework, improve business efficacy and further enhance investor protection. This publication is designed to offer a clear overview of the legislation that governs Capital Markets and seek to explain the legal approach adopted by the court.

LexisNexis Essential Reference - Environmental Quality
Malaysia ; Lexis Nexis, 2016

1v.

9789674006228

$ 125.00

This publication provides a contemporary overview of this rapidly expanding field of law and offers a clear overview of the legislation that governs environmental issues and seeks to explain the legal approach adopted by the court and relevant agencies.

The destruction of the environment is an ongoing global problem. In Malaysia, with the rapid increase of development, comes desolation of the environment. Malaysia has had environmentally-related legislation since the early 1920s. Despite that, legislation relating to the environment is still limited in scope and is insufficient for handling current environmental problems which are more complex in nature. The Environmental Quality Act 1974 was brought into force to address, prevent and control, pollution and environmental quality. The Act is necessary to curb soaring environmental problems that occur as a result of the rapid advancement of technology and modern industries. On top of that, the Act is also essential for the preservation and conservation of environmental sustainability. This publication provides a contemporary overview of this rapidly expanding field of law and offers a clear overview of the legislation that governs environmental issues and seeks to explain the legal approach adopted by the court and relevant agencies. The publication includes: Commentaries on defining specific terms within the Act The commentaries also cross-refer to local and international cases Relevant local and international legislation Summary of recent capital markets and services cases

ARBITRATION IN MALAYSIA: A PRACTICAL GUIDE / (Ed in Chief) Tun
Arifin Zakaria
Malaysia : Sweet and Maxwell, 2016
1v.
9789672049005

Arbitration in Malaysia: A Practical Guide is a comprehensive practitioners' guide written by the who's who of the Malaysian arbitration scene. The law governing arbitration is now one of the fastest growing areas of law in this country. With its flexible and efficient mechanism for resolving disputes between parties from different legal and cultural backgrounds, arbitration has become the preferred mode of dispute resolution.

This book clearly explains each stage of arbitration, from the appointment of the arbitral tribunal and its powers, to the relief and remedies it may award. It covers the key features of arbitration agreements and examines the subject through expert commentary and analysis. The book also discusses the role of the courts during and after arbitration, providing guidance on when the court can intervene in proceedings, and its attitude towards enforcing and entertaining a challenge to an award.

Leading experts take readers through the intricacies of various areas of specialist arbitration, making this a must-have guide for the arbitration professional.

KEY FEATURES:

- Comprehensive practitioners' guide written by leading practitioners
- Clear explanation of stages of arbitration, from appointment of arbitral tribunal and its powers, to the reliefs and remedies it may award
- Discusses role of the courts during and after arbitration, including recognition, enforcement and challenge of arbitral awards
- Coverage of key specialist arbitration areas

COMPANIES ACT 2016 WITH OVERVIEW BY CHEAH FOO SEONG

Malaysia : Sweet and Maxwell, 2016

1v.

9789670915739

$ 54.00

The Companies Act 2016 brings about the biggest overhaul of the company law regime governing companies in Malaysia since the old Companies Act was enacted in 1965. It necessitates the relearning of the Act by all those who work with corporate law.

This publication presents the full text of the Companies Act 2016, together with an Expert Overview to facilitate an early mastery of the new Act. The overview has been written by an experienced practitioner of corporate law to provide a quick summary of the workings of the new Act. It serves as a first point of reference to facilitate a good understanding of the new statutory regime regulating corporations and its related practices in Malaysia.

This publication is an essential source for lawyers, company secretaries, business advisors, accountants, company directors and regulators, as well as academicians and students of law, accounting and company secretarial practice.

Overview endorsed by the Institute of Approved Company Secretaries.

I WILL NEVER BEG / Tun Abdul Hamid Mohamad

Malaysia : CLJ Publications, 2016

1v.

9789674570675

$ 90.00

'I Will Never Beg' traces the journey of Tun Abdul Hamid Mohamad from the dirt-poor kampung where he was born to his retirement as the Chief Justice of Malaysia. Readers are transported back in time from the 1950s to the present, while witnessing many of the defining events that have shaped our nation. A no-holds-barred memoir, it captures his principles and ethics authentically – every word written by himself in his trademark clear, simple and precise language coupled with wit, humour, penetrating observation, incisive analysis, logical arguments, honesty and, last but not least, without fear or favour. Hence, I Will Never Beg.

ISMAIL SHARIFF'S ISLAMIC BANKING & FINANCE : The Law And Practice

In Malaysia / Mohamed Ismail Shariff

Malaysia : CLJ Publications, 2016

1v.

9789674570682

$ 120.00/ HB

There is some degree of ignorance about the true basis of Islamic banking and finance among bankers (even Islamic bankers), lawyers and the general public who are the ultimate users of the system. The tendency is to think of Islamic banking and finance in conventional terms and to compare the former to the latter. This will lead to a misunderstanding of the true nature of the system. Ismail Shariff's Islamic Banking and Finance: The Law and Practice in Malaysia seeks to fill some of the void that currently exists in the market. It covers many areas of the emergent banking system that is novel and intriguing to many who are not familiar with Islamic principles of finance.
