Under the Stacks – a phrase which means buried under a pile or heap of books, papers, musty documents, unread volumes, and treasured ephemera bearing words embalmed by time. In its metaphorical sense, as used in this book, it refers to history interred in our nation's bones and collective memory, long hidden and concealed, either to be retrieved and remembered or to be altogether forgotten ...

Literature

The Feet of Juan Bacnang : A Novel / Francisco Sionil Jose

Manila: Solidaridad Publishing House, 2011

264p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789718845530

$ 24.00 / PB

310 gm.

Juan Bacnang dela Cruz III is familiar to many Filipinos. He is urbane, approachable, a lover of the good life and women and kindly towards his fellowmen. He is also very rich, heir to a vast family fortune, an entrepreneur and innovator. As the latest allegorical creation of the Philippines' most widely translated author, Juan Bacnang dela Cruz III illustrates vividly the raw power as it operates in this country, unknown or glossed over by the Philipinos themselves. Already known for his searing criticism of injustice and inequities.

xiv. 244p. ; 23cm.
ISBN-13: 9789715066327
$ 22.50 / PB
384 gm.

Available Light is a work of fiction. It tracks the life of Ela Cruz in 14 interlocking parts – her quaint childhood, accounts of early mischief and awe, shared dreams of possibilities, friendships either lost or nurtured, the trials of marriage and the ambiguous consolations of motherhood, illness, death and renewal.

Eleven : Riverrun and Ten More Short Stories / Albina Peczon Fernandez Philippines: Center for Kapampangan Studies, Holy Angel University, 2011
viii. 254p. ; 23cm.
ISBN-13: 9789710546183
$ 19.95 / PB
404 gm.

This is a collection of disturbing short stories ... Perhaps, as in Fernandez's fiction, we are like the gravedigger in 'May Day' who stumbles upon 'the boy with a glint of the sun lodged in his bloodshot eyes.' In the mix of 'hard data' that we find in this book, we will be constantly nagged by the experience of a reality that artists, through their unblemished craft, have unwittingly kept from us – the non-aesthetic swirl of names and dates and words seeking to be swept into a coherence art never manages fully to get a grip on."

Image of God : Provocations of Others / Delfo Cortina Canceran, OP

Manila: University of Santo Tomas Publishing House, 2012

xx. 418p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789715066365

1. Image of God

$ 30.00 / PB

634 gm.

Image of God: Provocations of the Others analyzes the biblical texts of the image of God, which are found in the Book of Genesis and the Gospel of John, by interweaving the reading strategies of psychoanalytic, deconstructive, feminist, profeminist, and postcolonial perspectives. Through these reading strategies, Canceran attempts to deconstruct the power relations and hierarchies inscribed in the texts by opening spaces for the resignification of the image of God from subordinate Others such as women, colored men and colonized people who suffer from marginalization and exclusion in society. These readings endeavor to free the image of Gos from the entrapment or constraint of ideologies of sexism, racism and classism, and empower the Others in exploring their imaginations and affirming their identities so that they will gain their power to represent themselves in society.
