Anthropology

Development and Dominion: Indigenous Peoples of Cambodia, Vietnam and Laos / Frederic Bourdier (Edited)

Bangkok: White Lotus Co. Ltd., 2009

xxxii. 446p. ; 21cm.

ISBN-13: 9789744801524

$ 42.00

Development and Dominion: Indigenous Peoples of Cambodia, Vietnam and Laos deals with prevailing development ideologies and their impacts on indigenous societies with a particular focus on Cambodia, Laos and the central highlands of Vietnam. It reinforces the idea that development, as it is conceptualized and implemented, radically undermines local communities' ability to control the parameters of inevitable social and material changes. The more development projects choose new objectives and operating models the more the rhetoric and practices remain the same.

She presents herself with the vision of this miraculous and disturbing confusion; she infuses this in her own psyche and even in her body. What do these extraordinary manifestations portend? Happiness or misfortune? They form in any case the subject of her perpetual enquiry, the motor of her inspiration. They combine with her creative energy: almost every one of her paintings evokes a force ready to be unleashed, to be free to become a work of destruction.

[Photography Book]

The City of Bangkok is a destination that represents many things to many people, both residents and visitors alike.

To Thais, Bangkok may be the cultural and religious hub of their 70 million-strong nation, or perhaps it's the glowing lights of opportunity for those from the country's hinterlands, determined to better their lot..

Mango Rains: The True story of a Thai mother's lifelong search for her abducted daughter / Daniel M. Dorothy
Ireland: Maverick House Publishers, 2010
442p. ; 20cm.
ISBN-13: 9781905379668
$ 25.00

Mango Rains is the beautifully crafted story of a Thai woman who spent 21 years searching for her lost daughter.

Nid was told into bonded prostitution by her mother at 13 years of age. When she eventually falls pregnant she is thrown out of the brothel and gives birth to a baby girl, Lek. Unable to provide for her baby, Nid agreed to give her up. She later discovers the child was sold by its 'carer' to criminals who used her in a begging racket.

Mango Rains reads like the finest fiction but is tragically true. This is no ordinary book; it's a story of degradation, human trafficking and lost opportunity.

The subject of this study is a small collection of songs known as Caragiti, 'songs of the mystic path', or literary 'songs of the proper way of action'. Although the songs were composed perhaps sometime in the 9th-12th century CE, and thus belong to the final phase of Indian Buddhism, their authors, known as siddhas, have defied attempts of historians to place them within an exact historical context, just as they, in their own time, openly defied all religious and social conventions...
