Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya: Negotiating Urban Space in Malaysia / Ross King
Singapore: NUS Press, 2008
321p,; 23cm
ISBN: 9789971694159
$ 35.00

In this copiously illustrated book, Ross King considers what form of metropolis the Kuala Lumpur- Putrajaya region might foreshadow, arguing that signs of this future city are to be sought in the collision points between the utopian dreams of imagined futures and the reality of purposely forgotten pasts. Drawing on postcolonial studies, media studies and critical social theory, Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya makes a significant contribution to architecture, urban planning, urban design, as well as Malaysian politics and society.

Out of the Tempurung: Critical Essays on Malaysian Society / Fong Chin Wei & Yin EE Kiong(Eds)
Sydney: East West Publishing Pty Ltd, 2008
302p,; 22cm
ISBN: 9780975164648
$ 25.00

Out of the Tempurung deals with critical issues ranging from higher education to ethnic marginalisation and national unity in a way that is accessible to the lay reader and concerned citizens. In these changed socio-political circumstances, it is hoped that Malaysian will engage in soul-searching and public debates on the nation's recent past and the foreseeable future.

The perceptive reader will regard Out of the Tempurung as an invitation to think out of the box.

The Chinese in Southeast Asia and Beyond: Socioeconomic and Political Dimensions /
Yen Ching-hwang
Singapore: World Scientific, 2008
457p,; 24cm Includes index
ISBN-13: 9789812790477
1. Chinese-Asia, Southeastern. 2. Chinese-Foreign countries
$ 82.00

The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are, to a certain extent, determined by the nature and development of their communities. This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past. Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years, from 2000 to 2006, the book focuses on the social, economic and political aspects of these communities, with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore.

Mega-Urban Regions in Pacific Asia : Urban Dynamics in a Global Era / (eds) Gavin W. Jones & Mike Douglass
Singapore : NUS Press, c2008
376p. ; 23cm.
Includes bibliographical references and index
ISBN : 9789971693794 PB
1. Asia – Population
2. Migration, Internal – Asia
3. Asia – Social Condition

$ 25.00

The rapid urban transition new underway in Asia focuses on a limited number of mega-urban regions (MURs) that have reached population sizes in excess of 10 million people. This book examines four of these urban agglomerations - Jakarta, Manila, Bangkok and Ho Chi Minh - in Southeast Asia and two - Shanghai and Taipei - in East Asia. Drawing on unpublished census data for 1990 and 2000, the authors re-estimate actual agglomeration sizes and assess social and demographic dynamics across core, inner and outer zones of each MUR. They conclude that these mega-urban regions continue to increase their share of national populations, and zones immediately beyond the official metropolitan boundaries are where the most dramatic changes are occurring.

Is Singapore as conservative as the authorities claim it to be? Has the media been party to shaping this view, notably regarding public perceptions of homosexuality? Are Singaporeans prepared to decriminalise gay sex, or not? Have opportunities arisen for gay men to grab soft power in society?

Bali Today 2: Love and Social Life / Jean Couteau et al
Jakarta: KPG (Kepustakaan Populer Gramedia, 2008
248p,; 19cm
ISBN: 9789799101150

Not since Covarrubias 'Island of Bali' (1936) have we had a writer so incredibly in touch with village life. With his latest book Bali Today 2: Love and Social Life, Jean Couteau casts a wry eye on Balinese village life.

From his single plank at Mrs Somprong's tea stall, the ultimate egalitarian has for twenty years taken notes on the Balinese character. He observes in the French tradition of, say, Daumier, the great 19th century caricaturist, who noticed things that other people missed and then magnified them. Like any Frenchman, however, he is at his best writing about matters of the heart. Like a voyeur, Couteau shines his torch on Balinese courtship rituals, his favourite subject, and comes up with stories about the 'God of Love stare'. He then goes on to ponder, like a true philosopher, about whether "Cosmic love is giving way to global sex!"

Indonesian dreams: Reflections on society, revelations of the self -Cerminan masyarakat, pembukaan diri / Tino Djumini
Jakarta: Yayasan Obor Indonesia & KITLV, 2008
141p,; 23cm
ISBN: 9789794616703
$ 35.00

The variety of the works in this book denotes the change of times, alternating the old with the new, with photographs referring to traditions and rituals-such as wedding ceremonies, family portraits and pilgrimages-and works revealing a glimpse into tomorrow's Indonesia.

Each of the photographers and artists has-each in their own way-been influenced by the spirit of the times, both in their professional practice as well as in the imaging of their personal experience.

It's Time for the World to Change: In the spirit of dignity, equity, and transparency.
Divine Hand Behind Avian Influenza / Dr Siti Fadilah Supari
Jakarta: Sulaksana Watinsa Indonesia (SWI), 3rd Edition 2008

Ladyboys: The Secret World of Thailand's Third Gender / Susan Aldous, Pornchai Sereemongkonpol
Bangkok: Maverick House Publishers, 2008
291p,; 20cm
ISBN: 9781905379484
$ 26.25

The book features some of Thailand's celebrity ladyboys and others whose lives have never been publicly revealed; among them cabaret performers, a champion Muay Thai fighter, a male airhostess, a magazine columnist and a prostitute.

But Ladyboys is no ordinary book. It is a collection of authentic stories about journeys of self-discovery by those who have struggled with gender identity while trying to maintain normal lives and careers.

Ladyboys explains what it means to search for genuine acceptance, and the high price to be paid for revealing your true inner self. This book will leave you amused, saddened, entertained and informed. It will change your perception of ladyboys and transsexuals forever.

Love Entrepreneurs: Cross-culture relationship deals in Thailand / Phil Nicks
Singapore: Monsoon Books Pte Ltd, 2008
296p,; 20cm
ISBN: 9789810592110
$ 17.95

The biggest threats to potentially harmonious relationships in Thailand are unrealistic expectations and cultural differences; both threats are examined closely by Phil Nicks, enabling you to radically improve your chances of success in love.

[The prisons we broke provides a graphic insight into the oppressive, caste and patriarchal tenets of the Indian society, but nowhere does the writing descend to self-pity. With verve and colour the narrative brings to life, among other things, the festivals, rituals, superstitions, snot-nosed children, hard lives and hardy women of the Mahar community.

The original Marathi work, Jina Amucha (serialized in 1982 and published as a book in 1986) re-defined autobiographical writing in Marathi in terms of form and narrative strategies adopted, and the selfhood and subjectivities that were articulated. It is the first autobiography by a dalit woman in Marathi, probably even the first of its kind in any Indian language.]

[Sudhir Kakar, India's foremost psychoanalyst, has for long tried to infuse the pre-eminently Western discipline of psychoanalysis with ideas and views from the East in both his practice and his best-selling books. In mad and divine, he takes on the separation of the spirit and the body favoured by psychoanalysis, as he cautions that a focus on the body, to the exclusion of the spirit, is a denial of a persons wholeness, Similarly, to focus on the spirit alone is to hold in contempt the body that makes us human.]

[While sexual violence is an area that is well mapped by feminist scholarship, this volume focuses on transgressive and marginalized sexualities. It brings together writings on India that highlight the transgression of norms-of heterosexuality, of feminine and masculine behaviour, of recognisably gendered bodies-that declare ungoverned desire to be illegitimate. Sexualities also includes a selection of campaign documents from diverse sexuality movements in the country.]

[Smoke and mirrors: an experience of China is an intimate look at a society evolving at double-digit pace. Even as it engages the reader with its affectionate portraits of people like Mr Wu, her landlord, and Mohan, and entrepreneurial yoga teacher, it deftly raises- and answers-questions about the deeper concerns of development and freedom that are relevant to both India and China. In the process, Pallavi Aiyar breaks down many clichés, and opens new gateways through the great wall of China.]

[The book entitled 'Encyclopaedia of Untouchables, Ancient, Medieval and Modern' compiled in 2 volumes witnesses to the fact that how the Brahminical ideology used to behave with the poor people of the 'Father' which is totally unbearable to a normal person, even through they used to clean the cities, latrines, skin of the dead animals which were owned by the Brahmans. Hence, the Dalit literature is not a simple literature, it is associated with a movement to bring about a change in the society by working personally to realize the basic facts of the life.]

collect almost all the relevant indicators of higher education from both published and unpublished sources. The data sources include Governmental and Non-Governmental sources, some of the major individual research studies, websites and also different news papers.

The major objective is to present in one place all the relevant information relating to Higher Education in order to make it user friendly. The unique feature of this volume is that the relevant data are presented for a long period covering the pre-reform and reform period. They also presented for all the major states of India, suitably classified as highly developed, medium developed and less developed states. The statistics presented in this publication is useful for researchers, academic community and administrators.]
