More Back Road 4x4 Trips (Paperback) /

MapStudio, South Africa 2012

160p.;

9781770264182

$ 35.00 / PB

Intrepid traveller and author Marielle Renssen and her two travel partners have been kept busy exploring and writing the sequel to their first book 'Our Top 4x4 Trips' ? 'More Back-Road 4x4 Trips'. The particular focus of Marielle's second book is personal experience: each trip has been personally driven, and the accommodation recommendations tried and tested - with opinions given frankly and honestly. The idea is that other travellers learn from the experience gained by Marielle and co-authors -- the roads they expressly chose, those they avoided; what they loved en route, what stuck in their throats; their brilliant moves, their regrettable mistakes. Passion plays a big part in this book, too. The day-by-day trip descriptions are detailed, accompanied by striking colour images and maps with GPS waypoints for use in conjunction with any navigation system. There are bird, flower and tree lists; information on geology, historical and cultural aspects; even technical requirements, packing lists and border formalities, where relevant. The authors have also proved that you can tackle rugged 4x4 trails, and bump and sway across tens of thousands of kilometres (as they have done), yet still have your comforts at the end of the day - that is, a hot shower, flush toilet and a fridge for those cold beers. By steering you in the right direction and guiding you through the potential pitfalls, this book, with its 10 new trips, allows you to learn from the authors' experience. It presents a launch pad for your own back-road adventures, to be moulded and adapted entirely to suit you. Routes include Southern-Central Mozambique, West-central Lesotho and the greater South Africa.

Best Walks In The Cape Peninsula / Mike Lundy

Struik Travel & Heritage, South Africa 2012

144p.;

9781920545666

$ 17.50 / HB

A bestseller for 21 years, Mike Lundy's Best Walks in the Cape Peninsula remains one of the most popular books on hiking in Cape Town. Each of the 30 day walks in this classic collection has been carefully chosen because of a particular point of interest, be it a waterfall, grotto, yellowwood grove, shipwreck or spectacular viewpoint. The routes range from challenging climbs to the top of Table Mountain to leisurely strolls among the fynbos or along city beaches, and will appeal to hikers of all levels of experience – whether aspiring ramblers or diehard adventurers.

A simple grading system, information on the average hiking time, notes on the availability of water and practical advice on mountain safety and weather conditions ensure that the hiker is given a clear idea of what to expect. Every walk is accompanied by an accurate map and an easy-to-follow route description, spiced with historical snippets and nature notes.

For this eighth edition, all route descriptions and maps have been brought up to date, the design and typography have been given a fresh, modern look and photographs and illustrations add lively interest. With so many spectacular walks to choose from in the Cape Peninsula, Mike Lundy's Best Walks in the Cape Peninsula is the ultimate authority on the best and quickest escape from the rat race – even if only for a day.

Riding the Dragon's Spine - Beit Bridge to Cape Town / David Bristow, Steve Thomas

Struik Travel & Heritage, South Africa 2012

208p.;

9781431700301

$ 30.00 / HB

Loosely based on the idea of an Appalachian Trail, this mountain bike journey wends its way all the way from the north of South Africa's Limpopo Province, across the undeveloped highlands of Lesotho and down to the Cape Peninsula, following the Spine of the Dragon, the majestic Escarpment formed by the Drakensberg mountains. The authors blazed this trail that has only existed in theory to date. All of the maps were created by co-author Steve Thomas, and are presented from a mountain biker's point of view. Each section has a start and end point and gives detail important to cyclists.
