Hierdie splinternuwe tweetalige woordeboek vervang die bestaande Pharos Skoolwoordeboek en Pharos Tweetalige Skoolwoordeboek. Die nuwe Pharos Tweetalige Skoolwoordeboek bevat meer as 10 000 trefwoorde uit Afrikaans en Engels. Hierdie versameling trefwoorde bevat die kernwoordeskat van albei tale. Die volgende inligting word vir elke trefwoord verskaf: woordafbreking, primere klem, fleksievorme soos meervoude, verledetydsvorme en trappe van vergelyking, 'n gepaste vertaling, en volsinne, wat die gebruik van die woord illustreer. Die trefwoord word in blou aangegee wat die woordeboek meer gebruikersvriendelik maak. Afleidings van die trefwoord word na die inskrywing gegee, sodat die gebruiker woordfamilies kan identifiseer. The new Pharos bilingual school dictionary contains more than 10 000 headwords from Afrikaans and English. This collection of headwords includes the core vocabulary from both languages. The following information is provided for each headword: syllabification, primary stress, inflected forms such as plurals, past tense forms and degree of comparison, an apt translation, and full sentences, which illustrate the use of the word. The headword is printed in blue to make the dictionary more user-friendly. Derivatives of the headword are included at the end of the article so that users can identify word families.

'n Dief Aan Die Kers - Skelm Woorde Deur Die Eeue / Anton F. Prinsloo
NB Publishers, South Africa 2014

274p.;

9781868901760

$ 32.50 / HB

This brand-new book by Dr. Anton F. Prinsloo describes how the original meanings of approximately 1 000 Afrikaans words have changed in the course of years, so that the meanings we know today almost make no sense at all.

Centuries ago, the word ambition (ambisie) for example had nothing to do with a strong pursuit of success and prosperity. If someone had ambition in those days, this person walked from house to house like a beggar.

And the meaning of the Dutch dyke (dyk) was at that time least of all that of a "high wall at the sea to keep the water out". The word particularly did not refer to the wall, but to the ditch that was dug to obtain soil to build the wall, which had to protect the land against the sea.
