Itinerary of an Ordinary Torturer: Interview with Duch, Former Khmer Rouge
Commander of S-21 / Christophe Peschoux and Haing Kheng Heng

Silkworm Books, Thailand 2015

208p; 29 b/w Illus. 20 Col. Illus.

9786162151149

$ 32.00 / PB

Kaing Guek Eav was an ordinary young man growing up in Cambodia in the mid-twentieth century. He showed promise as a student, excelled in school, got a job as a math teacher, and experienced the political awakening common to young adulthood. But then he became a revolutionary, adopting the alias "Duch," and took charge of S-21, the infamous secret security center of the Khmer Rouge where in less than four years at least 14,000 "enemies" of the revolution were incarcerated, interrogated, tortured, and executed. After the sudden collapse of the government, Duch fled to the Cambodian frontier, where he took yet another name and lived in workaday anonymity until he was finally unmasked and sentenced to life in prison for his involvement in the heinous crimes of S-21. This is the last interview Duch gave as a free man, taking place just days before his arrest in May 1999. In it he describes, with remarkable and sometimes chilling precision, the workings of the Khmer Rouge movement and his own role and actions in the startling irrationality of that harrowing and haphazard regime. The interview is supported by an introduction and epilogue that delve unflinchingly into Duch's character and motivations, our own humanity, and the sometimes uncomfortable implications of global justice.

Presents vivid descriptions of cultural and family life in 19th century Burma. The book is a heart-warming and informative read for all generations. In the waning years of his life, an elderly Burmese gentleman, a retired Court official in the early 19th century, writes letters to his young grandson. In the sixteen messages that comprise the chapters of this book, the old man, drawing examples from his deep knowledge of the country's recent history, its folklore and religion, attempts to convey to the boy the wisdom and most important lessons that he can distill from his life. He thereby exhorts his grandson to live a pious, righteous and unselfish life of his own. Partly historical, partly philosophical, enjoyably readable, Letters From a Burmese Grandfather provides something for all generations in this delightful work of historical fiction.

Lao Postcards by Alfred Raquez is a first attempt to bring together the 166 postcards that were produced in six series of 25 each as Collection Raquez and 16 out-of-series postcards produced by Decoly as Cliché Raquez and later also under his brand La Pagode. Raquez was the first traveler who systematically made photos in Laos around 1900. He made seven trips in Laos; the longest journey was seven months. The result was his record Pages Laotiennes, available now in English translation as Around Laos in 1900: A Photographer's Adventures. A pictorial book with only his several hundred photos on Laos is available as volume 2 of Around Laos in 1900. Raquez organized the Lao Pavilion at the 1906 Marseille Exhibition, showing his large collection of textiles and artifacts gathered from around Laos
